Vietnam Confirms Latest Covid Outbreak from UK Variant

Vietnam's Ministry of Health, Tuesday (2/2/2021), confirmed that the newly detected Covid-19 outbreak was caused by a more contagious variant from the UK. The latest outbreak has infected 276 people and spread to 10 provinces and cities in Vietnam. Health Minister Nguyen Thanh Long said the newest cluster that emerged six days ago in the Northern Province, Hai Duong, had been brought under control. However, admittedly, the virus that spreads in the capital Hanoi, where 20 cases were detected, requires a longer treatment time. "Gene sequencing showed 12 of the 276 newly detected patients tested positive for the British variant, although the source of this outbreak is still unknown," Long told a cabinet meeting. "Hanoi must step up measures to contain the virus. The Ministry of Health will support the city to increase its testing capacity to 40,000 tests per day," Long said.
